Bushwackers Chinaman's creek weekend 07

Ok folks here we are once more at Chinaman's the weather man said it is going to be a fine weekend we will keep our fingers crossed he is not delusional this time, we rattled in about 10 pm Friday nite only to see what I could see in the dark many vans some I have not seen in a" coons age "and of course the visitors too. Later that evening it started to get windy oh no that dammed weatherman has done it to me again I thought, but alas come sat morning everything had settled down for the day NO wind and sunshine you beauty. The chuck wagon was set up and the drinkers of warm beverages began to arrive. The fire in the shelter shed was ablaze and some patrons warmed them selves. NOT a Bushwacker fire but a warm one never the less.

Attendances were not in any order, Christine and Garry, John and Lyn, Steve and Lynda, Ian and Sylvia, Daryl and Lois, John and Jan, David and Shirley, Peter and Mary, Alan and Lyn, Heather, Andrew and Lara, Ian and Julie, The Visitors were the Peter and Shirley, Margaret and Steve, Ray and Maree, Dana and Patrick, Pam and ken, Kay and Terry , Trace and Dense and Delphine and Robert.

Notice

It appears that some people are leaving their sign in details till the last minute which does not help those who have to do the raffles and the camp fees, we do not want to be doing it all on the breakfast morning it takes up to much time. Did that make sense? Mmm I think so. The sign in sheet is right on the chuck wagon table so it's not out of your way."So help us to help you" and sign in ASAP.

The Brekkie bunch consisted of

On the Toast were Lyn Arnott, Margaret, and Heather

The Hotplate Drivers were Peter Eades, Alan Hodges, Robbo,

The Stirrer of the tomatoes goes to Julie Robertson.

Bushwacker Prize went to Mary English Congrats to you.

The Booby prize went to someone who didn't own up cunning little devils.

"There will be another day"

Also it was suggested that we up grade our disk bowls set, as ours seems to be antiquated by the experts.

After a check of the funds I suggested that we acquire another 4-slice toaster, as one isn't enough to cater for the masses.

Apologies came from Val and Alan McDonald.

The meeting commenced with the apologies for the early breakfast due to the new hot plate performing faster than anticipated

Robbo welcomed visitors

Xmas destination will be at Fenton's creek subject to conformation I'll get back to you on that one.

Nice to see Daryl up and about Recuperating after the opp. Also Jan Dadd . And Shirley Eades too. Not feeling 100%.

A Word From Our President

After much discussion at our last breakfast about the new dog rules it was decided that the following now applies:

Dogs are to be kept at the owners vans at happy hour, Sunday breakfast and communal meals.

At other times they are allowed to wander but owners are to keep a watchful eye and know where they are and are responsible for cleaning up their dogs mess when seen or advised by another member.

This is to be trialed until the October meeting. Robbo.

Fentons Creek

has been booked for xmas.

The caterer has been sought and will advise later about that .
